Town Far Exceeds War Bond Quota

Andover seems to have a phobia of quotas; no sooner is one set up than it is bowled over again by an onrush of patriotic citizens. The latest quota to be set up was for the sale of bonds and stamps during the month of October; when the salesbooks were closed, the town had topped the quota set up for it—by the state sales committee—by 50 percent.

The quota was $50,000—roughly $5 per resident. At the end of the month, $74,700 had been sold in stamps and Series E bonds, and $32,500 more in Series G, for special types of investors.

Four Saturday band concerts at the town hall, sponsored by the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and British War Veterans, netted a large sum, and lobby sales in the Andover Playhouse were also generous. The local post-office, the National and Savings banks, and booths in two local retail stores all cooperated in making

Fuel Oil Registration Larger Than Expected

Nearly double the number of fuel oil consumers previously estimated to reside in Andover registered last week in the local schools. Though only about 1,000 persons were expected to turn in their fuel blanks, 1986 were registered. When the work, is completed, easily 2,200 will have been turned in, as there were quite a few instances of blanks incorrectly filled out and returned to their signers with instructions to revise them and turn them in at the rationing board office.

Registration was comparatively light on the first registration day, last Wednesday, only 477 being turned in then. On Thursday, 569 blanks were received at Punchard high school, 212 at the Shawsheen school, for a total of 781. Registration fell off somewhat on Friday, 539 blanks being filled at Punchard, 189 at Shawsheen, for a total of 728.

The three day total for Punchard was 1,471; for Shawsheen, 515.

The rationing board has already begun work on computing the rations to be given local consumers, but, because of the extra-large number of applications received, the ration books will not be ready until the middle of the month. Practically all the householders' applications are expected to be finished at the end of this week, and the board will then begin work on allotting rations to stores, churches, halls and factories.

Bombs Drop Here In Next Blackout

Realism To Be Stressed In Coming Raid Test

Somewhere in Andover, and sometime during the early part of next week, a stick of bombs will be dropped from an enemy bomber just chased away from Boston by Army pursuit ships. The bombs will wreck buildings in a several-block area, demolish all roads leading into that area, cut off all communications and the water supply.

That's part of the program for a surprise blackout, to be held here sometime between sundown Sunday and 11:59 p. m. Wednesday. Every available force of protection workers, organized under the committee on public safety, will be called upon to meet the needs of a large-scale disaster.

A new audible signal, to summon all the personnel to their posts, will be used for the first time next week, and will take the place of the usual "Green one" warning. The alarm, three short blasts and a long one, repeated for four minutes, should not be confused with the series of short blasts which, about 25 minutes later, will warn the public that the "raid" is actually in progress.

Miss Humphreys Now Training As Wave

Miss Hope T. Humphreys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. S. Humphreys of Holt road, is now training in the WAVES, new Women's reserve corps of the U.S. Navy, at the University of Wisconsin. She will graduate as an expert radio operator in January, and will probably be assigned then to a naval shore station. At that time, she will be able to send and receive radio messages in international code, and will have a background in radio communications in addition to a knowledge of Navy procedure, customs and traditions.

Miss Humphreys was a member of a large WAVES contingent which left Boston for training in October. Her present work is not entirely new to her, as she had three months radio training last year in Boston, being one of the first to take up such work under the auspices of the Women's Defense Corps.

Miss Humphreys attended the Briggs-Allen school, and later studied at Abbot Academy for a year. She was graduated from Concord academy, and studied art for two years at the Child Walker school in Boston.

Draft Quota To Leave For Induction

Andover Men Comprise Half November Group

A comparatively small group of men will leave tomorrow morning for induction into the armed forces. Slightly less than half the number are from Andover.

Several of the men scheduled to leave for induction have already joined other branches of the armed services, but they will be credited to Local Draft Board 3 as part of its quota.

Those to be sent to the induction station for their physical examinations are:

Gordon Tyndall, 28 Essex street; Raymond Gaudet, Lawrence; Joseph A. Davis, 27 High street; John J. Connors, North Andover; William D. Haphey, North Andover; John E. Dryden, North Andover; Peter Michael Skulski, 39 Corbett street; David Mowatt Lawrie, Tewksbury street, Ballardvale; Emile Oliver Boulanger, North Andover; William Harold Fyler, Dale street, Ballardvale; Loren Clinton Magoon, Lawrence; Robert Clifford Cowan, Ballardvale, (enlisted

V. F. W. To Dedicate Service Flag Sunday

A large 8x11 foot service flag, the gift of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its auxiliary, will be unfurled at an impressive ceremony at the town hall at 3:00 Sunday afternoon, in which several prominent local officials will take part.

The large banner contains a facsimile of an American flag, banked with blue stars on either side. Directly over the flag is a large gold star, commemorating those who have already died in service, and at top and bottom is an inscription, "Andover Honors Its Fighting Men."

A parade will form in front of Punchard high school at 2:30 with the Punchard girls' band in the van, followed by Company 80, Mass. State Guard, led by Captain H. Garrison Holt, Andover Post 2128, V.F.W., and its auxiliary. The parade will start downtown at 2:45, taking the route down Punchard avenue and along Main street.

The school committee, at its monthly meeting Tuesday night, received a communication from the P. T. A. council, comprised of representatives of all three local Parent-Teacher associations, requesting the committee to investigate the possibility of changing school hours. Several communities in the state have begun opening the schools daily at a later hour than previously, chiefly for the sake of conserving electric power and light.

The committee voted to request the council to meet with Superintendent Edward I. Erickson and the financial and advisory sub-committee, which has charge of school busses, and the meeting was held yesterday afternoon in Mr. Erickson's office. Mrs. James Schofield, president of the council and of the Ballardvale P. T. A.; Mrs. Otis C. Severance, council vice-president and head of the Central P. T. A.; and Mrs. Edward J. O'Connor, secretary-treasurer of the council and president of the Shawsheen group, were present at the meeting.

Mr. Erickson pointed out that bus service to the schools, during the commuting hours, is so continuous that there is very little time when the vehicles are not in use. Consequently, if the high and Junior high school openings were changed to a later hour, it would be necessary to postpone the day's opening in all grades and all schools. Some very young pupils would reach their homes only when the afternoon is well spent.

WPB Man Thanks Town For Salvage

Gurth F. Chambers, regional conservation manager of the War Production Board, has recently written a letter to Harry I. Emmons, local salvage chairman, thanking him and the public for their efforts in the recent salvage drive.

He termed Mr. Emmons' work "The faithful, untiring efforts you placed behind the recent drive to get in scrap metals. The results from your town indicate that you uncovered much scrap of which no one was aware."

"Through you, may we extend our thanks to the many volunteers who assisted you, and to the public, each of whom, to a greater or less degree, contributed the time, effort and thought which enabled your community to make its fine showing..."

THE ANDOVER

Heavy Vote Surprising Tuesday

Considering the wetness of the day, a surprisingly large percentage of Andover voters turned out for Tuesday's elections. Precinct One had the largest turnout, with 72 percent of its registration casting ballots. Precinct Two had 64 percent; Precinct Three, 66 percent; Four, 67; Five, 61; and Six, 66.

Andover voters heavily favored the Republican party, most of them evidently voting the straight ticket. Robert T. Bushnell picked up the heaviest local vote, 3129, compared with 2989 for Saltonstall and 2902 for Lodge.

J. Everett Collins, who took the lead in Andover by nearly a thousand votes, was re-elected handily to the position of representative, along with the other two Republican candidates, Mrs. Alyce Schlapp and Ralph H. Hill. In the county balloting, Hugh A. Cregg was re-elected district attorney, James Bentley county commissioner, Harold Thurston county treasurer.

The vote was surprisingly heavy on the controversial birth control issue, and six out of every seven local voters were recorded on the amendment. Though the amendment was defeated overwhelmingly throughout the state, Andover recorded itself as in favor of it by the relatively small margin of 500 votes, the totals being 2033 to 1538.

As had been expected in most quarters, the town went wet again, the sale of all alcoholic beverages being permitted by a vote of 2363 to 1290, with the succeeding two questions slightly heavier in favor.

Strangely enough, the voters approved the permission of horse racing by about 50 votes, while voting down dog racing by nearly 400 votes.

At all six polling places, voting was very light in the morning and early afternoon, but steady streams of voters began to pour into the precinct headquarters shortly before the closing of the voting day. Complete returns were available at about 11:00 Tuesday night.

RED CROSS NEWS

All women who desire to take the Red Cross first aid course, in afternoon sessions, are asked to report at the Memorial Hall library on Monday at 2:00. Mrs. Henry G. Tyer will conduct the class.

An interesting report by Eloise C. Higginson, chairman of the surgical dressings workers for the local Red Cross chapter, shows that the amazing number of 33,532 dressings were completed from September 22 to October 31. Of these, there were 19,705 eight by ten cotton pads, 13,827 four by four sponges.

All in all, there were 975 workers on this project, and they put in 2,577 hours on the task. At the John Dove school, 591 local women worked 1689 hours to make 3,754 sponges and 19,235 large dressings. At Peabody House, 283 workers, in 618 hours, turned out 7,073 sponges and 470 dressings, while an even 3,000 dressings were made by 101 workers, in 270 hours, at the Andover Infirmary.

Quite a few people here in Andover will be glad to know that pieces of clothing donated by them in the past few weeks to the Red Cross, are already being greatly appreciated by eleven merchant seamen on the North Atlantic.

The seamen are members of the deck crew of the S.S. Uhatan, and their letter to the Boston Seaman's Friend society, through which the presentation was made, mentioned that the "clothes were much needed and could not have been obtained ashore on such short notice."

The Seaman's Friend society also did a good job on the transaction. In a letter of thanks sent to Mrs. George French by G. E. Thorpe, superintendent and chaplain, the process was outlined: "...the very afternoon the packages came, there was a call for warm clothing from a whole crew of men going north. The boxes had not even been unpacked, and I immediately went into them to find all the things the men needed, which were there. Three men came over here and took the things back to the ship by taxi...It is a deep satisfaction to us to be able, through the kindness of our friends, to meet such needs as this, and we want you to extend our appreciation to all who so kindly contributed."

Among Andover citizens who have volunteered to donate blood to the Red Cross through the mobile blood donor unit now operating in Lawrence are Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Adriance, Mrs. Frederick Hulme, Mrs. Mildred H. Brown, Miss Anne Peabody, Frederick Smith, Joseph Staples, Kenneth Minard, Robert W. Sides, Bartlett H. Hayes, Wilbur J. Bender, Reginald I. Westgate and Douglas M. Dunbar.

A mobile unit will visit Andover during the week of April 5, 1943. Until then, further blood donations are urgently needed at the Boston center at 691 Boylston street, telephone KENmore 9060. Appointments should be made in advance.

Pvt. Percy D. Crosby, well-known school department employee here for several years, is now located with a military police unit at Shelby Field, Miss.

Blackout

Residents of the outlying districts of town should be able to hear the signal much more clearly than in former blackouts, since three new sirens have been installed at scattered points. One at the radio transmitter station on River road will serve a large section of West Parish, another at the pumping station at Haggett's Pond the area east of the first, and a third, at the Legion observation post, the southern part of town. Since each siren is clearly audible at a distance of a mile and a half, and all the regular alarms will be used, no section of Andover is expected to go unwarned.

All civilian defense personnel will assemble on the Green One audible signal. On receipt of Green Two at the report center, no audible alarm will be given, but the street lights will be extinguished; householders are expected to put out their lights at that time. The public alarm, on Green Three, will be a notification that the "enemy planes" are actually overhead.

All traffic will then be stopped, and their occupants and all other pedestrians will take shelter. Only cars with the official emergency sticker—which must be properly illuminated—and with low-beam headlights, will be allowed to move from then until the all-clear. The latter, as always, will consist of three minutes of long blasts on all alarm signals.

The major incident involving the concentrated bombing of a large area will be held during the blackout, and several umpires will evaluate the actions of the police, fire, A.R.P. and medical services which may be summoned. Every such organization will have an opportunity to go into action, and every detail of the "bombing" will be made as realistic as possible.

After the raid, as many as 15 incidents will be set up in each precinct. The wardens on duty will telephone salient facts on these incidents to their precinct headquarters, but no further action will be taken. A large number of umpires will oversee their response.

The incidents will be indicated by large flares set off by the umpires on various streets. Blackout officials have permitted the use of these flares, which will furnish the only light in town.

The test will take place all wardens will be on duty, as well as through Region 4. About 150 to 175 scores of other air raid workers.

CHURCH SERVICES CHANGE

Effective Sunday, masses at St. Joseph's chapel in Ballardvale will be celebrated one hour earlier, at 8:00. The change is made in order to permit the priests of St. Augustine's parish to celebrate Sunday mass at Camp Andover, the military police training station in North Reading. The mass at the camp will be celebrated at 9:00.

their sales the greatest in several months.

Payroll deductions at three local mills also turned in large amounts of badly-needed cash to your Uncle Sam. Tyer Rubber has 80 percent of its employees putting six percent of their wages into bonds weekly; 65 percent of the American Woolen employees are investing four percent, and 90 percent of the Marland mill workers six and a half percent, of their wages every week.

The local war bond and stamp committee will meet with representatives of several local organizations tomorrow evening at 7:00 in the lower town hall to discuss new selling campaigns. The meeting will not last more than 20 minutes, and all interested local groups are invited to send delegates.

School Hours

At the same time, nearly 160 high school students, nearly half of Punchard's total enrollment, are now working in paid positions, and the proposed changes would interfere seriously with their work schedules.

The P. T. A. representatives agreed to the seriousness of the problem, and decided to postpone any further action until they have a chance to confer with the groups they represent.

The buildings and grounds sub-committee, at the meeting, reported that Percy Crosby, who recently entered service, had requested a leave of absence for the duration of the war. This was granted, and William Snyder, present night janitor at the central schools, was appointed temporary substitute on day duty. George F. Symonds of Summer street was made temporary night janitor, at a salary of $27.50 per week.

It was voted to close all the public schools Friday, when the teachers will attend a meeting of the Essex county teachers association in Boston.

The teachers sub-committee reported that Miss Gwen Armitage, Punchard instructor, will not enter service in the WAVES until February, and it was voted to permit Miss Armitage to continue teaching until called to duty.

The committee also decided to set registration dates for adult education classes for the coming winter, and to adopt the plan suggested by Mr. Erickson, to hold all classes in the central system rather than in the outlying schools.

It was pointed out that there are still 190 allens in Andover. Two different courses will be given, one for reading and writing in English, the other, in citizenship, for those who attended classes last year. The committee will allot $300 towards the expense of the program, the state furnishing the balance.

It was voted to have the chairman appoint a committee of three to draw up resolutions on the death of Myron E. Gutterson, one of Punchard's most loyal supporters for decades, who had always rendered his inspirational, and often financial, support to the school activities. William A. Doherty, Dr. Malcolm B. McTernan and Arthur R. Lewis, all Punchard graduates, were appointed as a resolutions committee.

A warrant of bills and accounts for the month, amounting to $18,345.74 was approved.

Supt. Erickson was granted permission to readjust the schedules of the Shawshen or any other school during the winter months, to meet weather conditions or any other exigency that might prevent pupils from reaching the schools at the assigned time.

Punchard Notes

Ruth Gregory

Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of last week, the teachers of the various schools and several Punchard students were engaged in the fuel oil rationing registration. Although high schools in some of the neighboring towns and cities were closed during these days, Punchard had regular school sessions, but the pupils were dismissed half an hour earlier because of changed bus schedules.

In the death of Myron E. Gutterson, Punchard has lost one of its dearest and most devoted friends. He was interested not only in the general program of the school but also in its extra-curricular activities. He was always an attendant at student activities at the school, and gave prizes at graduation for excellence in the study of Botany. His especial interest was in school athletics, and whenever the Athletic Association was in need, he was always one of the first to help out. Punchard will always remember his interest in the activities of the school.

On Friday, November 5, the annual convention of the Essex County Teachers Association convenes in Boston. This is always a time of rejoicing for the students of Punchard, who will plan to celebrate it in various ways.

Both Miss Gates and Mr. Manning of the faculty are absent from school on account of illness.

Phillips Boys Collect Material For Soldiers

The Old Colony Camp and Hospital council has recently received the following items from Circle A, student organization at Phillips academy: a radio, a standing victrola, a portable victrola, some records, two card tables, three lamps, and over 100 books. The boys at Phillips worked very industriously rounding up these items, and the council has commended them for their efforts.

The Old Colony Camp and Hospital council was recently formed to help solve the problem of supplying the camps, training stations, and hospitals with recreation equipment. It was formed by the Red Cross from delegates from the cities and towns along the Massachusetts shore from New Hampshire to Plymouth. The delegates meet in Boston every two weeks with the field directors from the various camps, who present their most urgent needs in recreation facilities to the council.

The Andover committee is made up of members of the American Legion and its auxiliary, British War Veterans, V.F.W., Service club, Garden club, November club, League of Women Voters and P.T.A. Many useful gifts have already been forwarded.

Contributions to this cause are being solicited from all Andover people, in order to keep up the morale of the men in uniform. Any articles in good condition will be called for by telephoning Mrs. E. F. Leland, Jr., or Mrs. J. E. Andrews.

ATTEND BOSTON MEETING

BALLARDVALE

Community Association Elects

New officers were elected Monday evening in their rooms by the Ballardvale Community association, and are as follows: Randolph Perry, president; Mrs. Michael Bell, vice-president; Mrs. Franklin Haggerty, secretary; Timothy Haggerty, treasurer; Mrs. William Kiley, chairman of the entertainment committee; Michael Bell, chairman of membership. Clester Matthews was reappointed custodian of the room and given a vote of thanks for his previous services.

A donation of $25 will be sent to the Servicemen's Fund by the association, as well as the proceeds of a turkey whist to be held during the last week of November.

The entertainment committee is considering plans for a Christmas party. Richard O'Brien, Mrs. James Schofield and Mrs. Timothy Haggerty were chosen to discuss the matter of a service flag for the boys of the Vale, and also obtaining a plaque for the community room.

The next meeting will be December 7.

Plan Church Fair

The annual Union Congregational church fair will be held in the community room next Friday afternoon and evening. A decorative scheme honoring the allied nations will be followed by the different church societies. They will be: England (domestic table)—Church Service league. Russia (foods and bakery table)—Junior department of the church school. Canada (grabs)—primary and beginners department of the Sunday school. China (white elephant)—church choir. United States (candy table)—Junior C.E. society.

Donations towards these tables will be gratefully received, or they may be called for.

A Swedish smorgasbord supper will be served by the Friendly Guild from 5 to 7, with the assistance of the C.E. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Mary Bruce, Mrs. Marion Cormey, Mrs. Helen Webb and Mrs. Alta Matthews. Tickets will be sold at the door, but it is hoped that all who can will get them earlier.

The evening's entertainment will include a sound movie, "Meat and Romance," as well as several movies showing the people of the church on various occasions. The movies will be sponsored by the Men's club, and will be shown at 8:00.

Friendly Guild To Meet

All members of the Friendly Guild are asked to attend the business meeting in the church vestry Friday at 8:30. Plans for the smorgasbord supper will be discussed, and scrap-book work continued.

P.T.A. Meets Tonight

The P.T.A. will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. James Morton. Miss Mildred Lowe, Andover Red Cross nurse, will be the speaker, and a good attendance is desired.

Leadership Lacking

There were mistakes made, of course. Here in the county we made one or two, primarily because there seems to be no way in which the voters can meet the candidates to find out just what they are really like. Down around Boston they made a mistake, too, which might reflect on Massachusetts unfavorably—it's too bad that James Michael Curley can't still pretend he's a delegate from Puerto Rico, if Puerto Rico would stand for it.

There are two fundamental weaknesses displayed in our democracy as shown in this week's election. One is the lack of proper party leadership; the other is that in some places the people apparently just don't care who represents them. The latter doesn't affect us here in Andover so much, but the former does, because we have no practical way of really knowing whether a candidate is good or not.

It's pre-election leadership we need, or more specifically pre-primary leadership. Somehow each party must get together a group of its better members who will do their utmost to see that the party's primary ballot contains the names of the best-qualified men for the various positions. It is obvious that in most cases the electorate leans pretty heavily on the party label, which would be all right if the party's candidates were well-chosen.

Today it's a helter-skelter mess before primaries. Almost anybody can get his name on the ballot, and the party leaders aren't too fussy. For instance, a good Republican could have beaten Hugh Cregg for district attorney in the primaries; a good Democrat could have beaten Cregg in the final elections. The result is that we have a district attorney whose past record of omissions isn't anything to be proud of, and the reason we have him is that neither party put up a good candidate.

There's another election in two years. It's not too early to start searching for good party standard-bearers now.

This Sober Town

That servicemen's plaque in front of the town hall, though it has been up almost four months, still has its daily quota of spectators. We honestly can't recall when we've gone by there, in the daytime, without finding someone scanning the long columns of names.

In former years we paid the matter no heed, but in this period of scrap collection, we hate to see loads and loads of leaves going up in smoke. They must be good for something.

We were delighted to find a quotation from "This Sober Town" in the Phillips Bulletin which came out last week—our little epic about Dr. Claude Fuess making a hole in one in North Andover some months back.

In return, we would like to repeat a story published in the Bulletin. It seems that a P.A. graduate named Albert Vorse, lieutenant in the Navy Air Force, was assigned to the Lexington at the time of its sinking. He was in the air at the time, and watched his ship go down from a height of 10,000 feet. He wrote home later that his first thought was, "Where the heck will I sleep tonight?"

In times like these, how would you like the job of obtaining meat for several hundred hungry young men every day? Robert Leete, manager of the Phillips Academy Commons, vexed with that problem during recent weeks, has come up with a solution.

Starting this week, P.A. will have "meatless days" on Tuesdays, and no beef, veal, lamb or pork will be served then. Since chicken, fish and liver are fairly plentiful—according to the Agriculture Department in Washington—only these will be exposed to the P.A. appetite. The noon meal will consist of beans or vegetables, and dinner will contain the substitutes.

The possibility that meat will be actually rationed soon, is, of course, a separate and entirely distinct headache. Until that unhappy time, the "meatless days" are expected to meat the situation.

You may not have noticed an interesting point about that new air raid alarm for the use of civilian workers in next week's blackout. The signal consists of three short blasts and one long. In Morse code it's...—; that's right, V for Victory.

We can't find out whose idea it was to have that particular combination of sounds for the assembly signal, but we don't think anyone will strenuously object.

Boynton Now Pilot In South Carolina

Second Lieutenant Kellogg Boynton, Jr., of Andover, reported for duty at Columbia Army Air Base recently and was assigned to a medium bombardment group as a pilot.

Lieut. Boynton received his specialized training at Avon Park, Fla., Army Air Base, Greenville, Miss., and Columbus, Miss. He was commissioned this month.

In civilian life he was a production engineer. His mother, Mrs. Marion Lewis Boynton, resides at 17 Hidden road.

Peterkin Speaks Tonight At Square And Compass

Captain L. Denis Peterkin of Phillips Academy, who was unable to fill a similar engagement last month, will address the meeting of the Square and Compass club tonight at 8:00 in its hall. Capt. Peterkin is a former British officer and was stationed in Egypt at one time, and he should be able to give an expert picture of the recently announced British victory in North Africa.

H. Lester Utley of Shawsheen will also show several of his movie films at the meeting.

Other qualified wardens who failed to obtain their insignia at the former listed times may also obtain them Friday evening between 8 and 8:30.

Bessie P. Goldsmith, Identification Officer.

NEW BOMBS

Instructions for coping with new types of enemy fire bombs have been issued by the Office of Civilian Defense, of which all protection workers are asked to make careful note.

One of the new bombs is the usual small magnesium incendiary, to which has been added a more powerful explosive charge set off by a time fuse. New methods of attack are required to prevent serious conflagrations in the event of a bombing.

The enemy has also used new types of large incendiaries which explode on impact, presenting a problem of multiple fire, which must be attacked with a jet of water. The new instructions apply, in their main elements, to fighting both types of bomb.

It should be noted, from the discussion of these types of bombs, that fire continues to be a most important weapon, and that, against fire, water is still the best weapon. When heavier, delayed-action explosive charges are added, they are meant primarily to hold off attack on the fire itself until it has gained dangerous headway.

The four new types of bombs are:

1. A fairly common 2.2 pound fire bomb, with an extension of the nose containing a larger explosive charge. The total weight is increased to five pounds, the length to 21 inches. The incendiary section of the bomb ignites upon landing, but the explosive charge may go off at any time, up to or beyond seven minutes later. The explosive part may become detached, but this does not lessen its effectiveness. This bomb has been employed by the Germans.

2. A combination incendiary and high explosive bomb, in a casing about 30 inches long and 8 in diameter. On impact, it throws out 60 small metal containers with thermit-type filling, and six larger tumbler-shaped fire pots containing a magnesium-type filling. Almost immediately after ejecting the incendiary units, a 12-pound charge of TNT in the nose of the bomb explodes.

3. A phosphorus-oil bomb in a casing similar to the above, but containing only the usual type of fuse to split the casing open on

SUPPLIES ARE GETTING THROUGH

I understand that some misguided people have been spreading rumors that supplies contributed to the Russian War Relief have not been reaching the Russian people. The facts, easily verifiable at the Russian War Relief headquarters, indicate that up to August 10, every boat carrying such supplies reached its Russian destination safely and not a single item was lost.

Figures since then are not complete and it may be that a ship or two has been sunk but it is certainly conservative to assert that a very large percentage of the supplies has made the passage safely.

So confident are we now of a safe arrival that the Russian government is now requesting that all kinds of warm clothing be sent and our government is guaranteeing space for our supplies.

impact and scatter its sticky liquid contents, will ignite spontaneously because of the phosphorus. The phosphorus may be extinguished by water, but will break into fire again if allowed to become dry.

4. A Japanese bomb weighing about 110 pounds and containing, besides a quantity of thermit, a considerable number of rectangular rubber-impregnated incendiary pellets which scatter widely and start a substantial number of small fires. Such fires may be attacked immediately.

(Methods of combating these bombs will be outlined in this column next week.)

Captain Edward A. Baker of the London fire department will give a lecture in the Memorial auditorium next Tuesday evening at 8:15. He will discuss his experiences in the blitz of 1940, and tell what measures were taken to counteract the large number of incendiaries and H.E. bombs dropped then. All local A.R.P. workers are especially urged to attend, but the general public is also invited.

A general meeting of all air raid wardens of Precinct One will be held Friday evening at 7:30 in the Square and Compass hall. Instructions will be issued covering the coming blackout and supplies furnished the wardens.

Details of the blackout were also discussed at length at a meeting of Precinct 3 wardens Monday evening.

Abbot Academy Notes

Field Day, gay with green and orange colors, symbolic of the two teams, the Gargoyles and the Griffins, who will again clash for honors in tennis, basket-ball, hockey and a number of minor sports, will be the highlight of Abbot's week-end. The team captains are Betty Rowley, of Cleveland, Ohio, Gargoyle, and Ann Richards, of Plymouth, Griffin. The program will begin with the finals in tennis at 11:00. The contestants cannot yet be announced because several matches are yet to be played off before that hour on Saturday, but the Gargoyles are feeling confident that their representative will be the 1941-42 champion—Molly Hubbard, of Erie.

At 2:30, probably the basketball game will be played off, with the following teams:

Gargoyles: Louise Honnen, of Colorado Springs, Colo.; Mary Jane Hodges, of Andover; Pamela Clark, of New York City; Katherine Shaughnessy, of Bronxville, N. Y.; Helen Norris, of Winchester; Cornelia Perkins, of Westbrook, Maine.

Griffins: Marjorie Hamilton, of Limestone, Maine; Elinor Cahill, of Lawrence; Louise Swenning, of Berlin, N. H.; Ruth Goodall, of Sanford, Maine; Ann Richards, of Plymouth; Sally Spear, of Rumford, Maine.

The Reverend Vivian T. Pome-roy, D. D., of the First Parish, Milton, will speak at the 7:30 vesper service on Sunday.

The enjoyment of the Halloween party last Saturday was greatly enhanced by the minstrel show presented by the day scholars, with Barbara Lindsay, head of the day scholars, as interlocutor. The end men were Alva Houston, Peggy Howe, Betty Colson, Joan Holdsworth, and Edna Nutton. Special numbers were presented by Edith Flather, Nancy Barnard, Shirley Rhodes, Rosalie Benton, Carol Paradise, and Louise Doyle. The faculty too presented a surprise number inspired by the policemen's song from "The Pirates" and entitled "A Teacher's Lot Is Not A Happy One."

Legion Auxiliary Has Impressive Installation

The local American Legion rooms were the scene of the first wartime installation of the post's auxiliary in its twenty year history, last Thursday evening, and the ceremony was justly elaborate and memorable. A special entertainment featured selections on the accordion by the young Johnson Brothers, and "the Three Musketeers" of Lawrence, all of whom, incidentally, went away to carry Uncle Sam's muskets yesterday.

Officers installed included Mrs. Eva Muise, president; Mrs. Mary McCarthy, senior vice-president; Mrs. Florence Cheney, junior vice-president; Mrs. Ina Jowett, secretary; Mrs. Helen Holt, treasurer; Mrs. Sophia Simon, chaplain; Mrs. Betty Lawson, historian; Mrs. Winifred Keith, sergeant-at-arms; Miss Ethel Hilton, Mrs. Mary Wrigley and Mrs. Grace Peters, executive board.

Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Rose Proulx, Miss Ethel Hilton and Mrs. Gertrude Markey.

More than 150 persons were present to see the installation ceremony performed by Mrs. Mary Rowell of Peabody, county director. Her staff included Mrs. Ralph Staples and Mrs. Ruth Byrne of Beverly, Miss Helen Publicover of Beverly Farms, Mrs. Alberta Glynn of Saugus, Mrs. Leone Landry of Gloucester, Mrs. Sarah Congdon of Salisbury and Mrs. Kathryn Harty of Methuen.

Two Gold Star mothers were guests at the ceremonies, Mrs. John C. Bevis of Salisbury and Mrs. C. J. Beals of Lawrence. Other guests represented auxiliary units in Salem, Beverly, Gloucester, Peabody, Saugus, Lynn, Lawrence and North Andover.

Mrs. Muise was presented with a cape and hat with a bouquet of chrysanthemums by the auxiliary on the occasion of her beginning her second year in office. The local Legion post presented her with a chrysanthemum bouquet. Mrs. Muise presented her officers of the past year with a gift, and cards Christ church's Girls' Friendly society had a big Halloween party in the parish house... Mrs. Thomas W. Platt was installed as Legion Auxiliary president.

Dr. Osgood To Address Alpha Phi Chi Sorority

The Alpha Phi Chi sorority of the South church will meet next Thursday evening, November 12 at 8:00 in the vestry. This is to be guest night, and all members of the parish are invited. The group has been very fortunate in securing as its guest speaker Dr. Phillips Endecott Osgood of the Emmanuel Church, Boston. His subject will be "The Elements of Morale."

Dr. Osgood has the reputation of being an interesting and inspiring speaker and it is hoped that many will be present to hear him.

At the conclusion of the talk refreshments will be served with Mrs. Frank Petty in charge, assisted by Mrs. Arthur W. Cole, Mrs. L. Fraser Colpitts, Miss Mariana Cromie, Mrs. George Collins and Miss Betty Sherman.

Within a few weeks, many Andover residents will receive letters containing a Christmas seal from the Essex county health association. Miss Helen Ripley, Miss Lucy Adams and Mrs. Anne Hunt recently gave a great deal of their time to addressing more than 3,000 of these envelopes for the Andover committee.

Andrew B. Ferrier of Moraine street, a recent enlistee in the Navy, is now undergoing preliminary training at Newport, R. I.

A SINCERE Thank you

DURING THE LATE summer and early fall, your telephone company found it necessary, because of dangerously high traffic loads, to ask you to cut down on your use of the telephone. That was because war calls were loading lines which could not be expanded because of war restrictions.

YOUR CO-OPERATION helped us over the late summer peak, normally the busiest time on our long-distance lines. Records indicate that many customers made sharp reductions in their calls, and that telephone users in general were understanding and tolerant of the unavoidable delay in handling their calls.

SERIOUS BOTTLENECKS still exist on lines to Washington, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Albany, Norfolk, Philadelphia. There are also a few communities in New England where local calling is exceeding switchboard capacity, notably in New York, R. I., and in Hingham, Fitchburg and Taunton, Mass., and fewer calls to, from, and within these localities would help the war job.

DURING THE SUMMER your voluntarily imposed curtailment of calling enabled hard-pressed operators to speed important long-distance calls to their destinations. With war calls still demanding right-of-way, this curtailment is still in order.

THE TELEPHONE COMPANY and its employees are deeply grateful for the tolerance and understanding which were expressed orally and by letter during the period when the telephone traffic situation was most critical.

Make Your GARMENTS Last Longer

Of course nothing can make them last longer than the strength of their fabrics or the quality of the workmanship within them—but regular dry-cleaning makes clothes last longer than they possibly can if soiled spots and dust are permitted to dig deep into the fabric and thread.

John S. Moses, rector of Christ Church.

The bride wore a princess gown of white satin with a round neck, the off-shoulder line trimmed with seed pearls and embellished with the groom's gift, a jewelled brooch made to match an heirloom ring. The long veil was caught with a coronet of orange blossoms worn by the bride's mother at her marriage. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids, bouvardia, swansonia and maidenhair fern.

The maid of honor, Miss Frances McTernan of Wolcott Avenue wore flame colored chiffon and carried a cascade bouquet of white bouvardia and swansonia. The bride's mother wore powder-blue crepe with a white orchid and the groom's mother wore wine colored crepe with a white orchid.

DEATHS

Myron E. Gutterson Is Widely Mourned

Myron Edwards Gutterson, when well past his 70th birthday, was in the habit of stopping by at the local playstead to watch Punchard students work out in football, or baseball, or any of the other sports in which he took so keen an interest. He would watch a particularly hard tackle, an especially fast slide into second, and murmur to a friend, "I wonder if that boy is strong enough to keep going at that pace. I wonder what kind of stuff he's made of."

Present-day Punchard students, and hundreds of local men and women to whom he was a friend and counsellor during their Punchard days, came to a full realization of Myron Gutterson's own strength of character Saturday evening, when he passed away after a year's illness at the Coles Nursing home.

Even as he lay dying, the company which he had founded more than 50 years before was performing a signal service to the government. In recent months, mountains of scrap have been raised in the Gutterson and Gould wholesale iron and steel yards in Lawrence, scrap that later was shipped away to make guns, tanks and the other necessary implements of the country's forces.

Myron Gutterson was born in Andover on February 18, 1863; he always lived here. He graduated from Punchard in 1881, a member of a class of five students, none of whom survive him. Commencement meant for him, however, only a closer tie with the old school, and, as the years passed, he became its outstanding alumnus and one of its greatest benefactors.

He had been a good football player at Punchard, and his interest in its athletic programs never diminished. In years when sports interest was not as great as it is today, he was the chief supporter and benefactor of its football team.

He resigned only last winter from his position as trustee of the Punchard Free school, which he had held since 1896. In that same year, he inaugurated a prize for botany at Punchard which is still awarded annually. As to botany, he was an authority on New England and Essex county flora and fauna, and he accumulated perhaps the best collection of technical works on those subjects in the state.

He was a trustee of the Punchard alumni association's scholarship fund for a period of 18 years; he was an honorary member of the Service club; an active participant, years ago, in the activities of the Andover Historical society and Andover Natural History society; a member of the Village Improvement society; a member of the South church, and clerk of the church for 26 years. He was keenly interested in local and state Republican politics.

Surviving him are his wife, Eleanor Gulick Gutterson, and several nieces and nephews. His first wife, the former Elizabeth Tyler of Andover, died in 1934.

The body was removed to the Lundgren funeral home, and was taken Tuesday morning to the South church, where it lay in state until 2 o'clock. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Frederick

B. Noss and Rev. Newman Matthews, both of whom had been fellow trustees of the Punchard Free school with Mr. Gutterson.

During the exercises, Mrs. Mervin E. Stevens sang "Fight the good fight." Joseph N. Ashton presiding at the organ.

Miss Mildred Gutterson of Boston, a niece, represented the family of Rev. George Gutterson at the funeral. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Luther H. Gulick of Wellesley, Edward V. Gulick of Hamden, Conn., and Miss Helen Buttrick and Ernest Buttrick of Lowell.

Honorary bearers were William G. Thompson, Edmond E. Hammond, Thaxter Eaton, George G. Brown, Charles Edwin Hayes and Joseph Soutar. The active bearers were Francis Zecchini, Richard M. Zecchini, Joseph H. Blunt, Nathan C. Hamblin, Eugene V. Lovely, and Edwin T. Brewster.

The ushers, all of whom are actively connected with the Punchard alumni association, were Ensign Joseph B. Doherty, U.S.N.R., Roger Whitcomb, William V. Emmons and Douglas Howe.

Paul R. Stevens, 46, son of the late Arthur R. and Mabel L. Stevens, who resided at 197 High street, died Monday in Lowell. He is survived by his wife, Laura Whitten Stevens; two daughters, Marian L. and Elizabeth A. Stevens; and one son, Paul R. Stevens, Jr. He is also survived by two sisters, Dorothy L. and Beatrice L. Stevens, and a brother, Ralph B. Stevens, all of Andover.

The funeral was held this afternoon at 2:30 from the late home, 35 Wetherbee avenue, Lowell. Burial was in Lowell.

Miss Anna Walla died Sunday afternoon at her home on Poor street after a lengthy illness. She was the daughter of the late Stanley and Mary Walla of Lawrence, and graduated in 1932 from Lawrence high school.

Survivors include a brother, Chester, and a sister, Eleanor Frances, both of Lawrence.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning at 9:00, with a high mass of requiem in Holy Trinity church, Lawrence. Burial was in Immaculate Conception cemetery, Lawrence.

Legion Holds Poppy Day This Saturday

The local American Legion post will hold its annual Poppy Day Saturday. Once a year, the Legion appeals to the Andover public to contribute a small donation and to wear a poppy at Armistice Day time. The money raised is used for veteran and also local non-veteran welfare, and child welfare and aid to worthy and needy veterans is given from time to time.

Townpeople are urged to wear a poppy Saturday, and any assistance shown the solicitors on the streets will be greatly appreciated. The committee is: T.P. Dea, chairman; F. Cook, C. Grey, J. Anderson, L. W. Muise, H. Peters, G. Napier, S. Lindsay and J. Medolo.

An attractive window display was arranged today in a window at the Burns store on Main street. The tableau centers around a large American flag, and depicts scenes at Bataan, Corregidor and the Solomon Islands.
